

Treasury Department,

Bureau of the Mint,

Washington, D. C., October 9th, 1894.

Eugent Townsend Esq.,

Superintendent U. S. Mint,

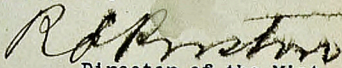

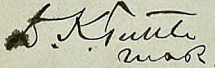

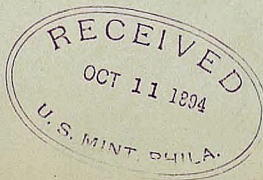

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Sir:

You are hereby authorized and directed to resume the coinage of minor coins immediately, in such denominations and quantities as may be needed to fill orders for the present fall trade.

You are also authorized to forward to the Scoville Manufacturing Company, Waterbury, Connecticut, the metal on hand September 29th, resulting from the melting of uncurrent minor coins, the same amount to be returned by said Company in one cent bronze and nickel five-cent blanks. The rate to be paid the Scoville Manufacturing Company for converting the minor coinage metal into blanks will be eight cents per pound for the one-cent blanks and ten cents per pound for the nickel blanks.

Respectfully yours,

Director of the Mint.
W. Steel
Clerk

NARA RG104, Entry 1, Box 187

Treasury Department,
Bureau of the Mint,
Washington, D.C.,
October 9, 1894

Eugene Townsend Esq.,
Superintendent U.S. Mint,
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Sir:

You are hereby authorized and directed to resume the coinage of minor coins immediately, in such denominations and quantities as may be needed to fill orders for the present fall trade.

You are also authorized to forward to the Scoville Manufacturing Company, Waterbury, Connecticut, the metal on hand September 29th, resulting from the melting of uncurrent minor coins, the same amount to be returned by said Company in one cent bronze and nickel five-cent blanks. The rate to be paid the Scoville Manufacturing Company for converting the minor coinage metal into blanks will be eight cents per pound for the one-cent blanks and ten cents per pound for the nickel blanks.

Respectfully yours,
R.E. Preston
Director of the Mint.

[Signatures at bottom of letter:]

D.K. Tuttle, M & R
W. S. Steel, Coiner